

I am against the proposed “restoring internet freedom”. This proposal will only hurt the internet freedom that websites and users currently have and will negatively impact the ability the consumers. This bill will only allow the internet providers to take further advantage of the consumers and online companies while offering no benefits. Net neutrality must be maintained.